

Peerpad is in Alpha. The codebase hasn't been audited by Security specialists and it shouldn't be used to store, share or publish sensitive information.

What is PeerPad Features How it works Benefits Open Source

START

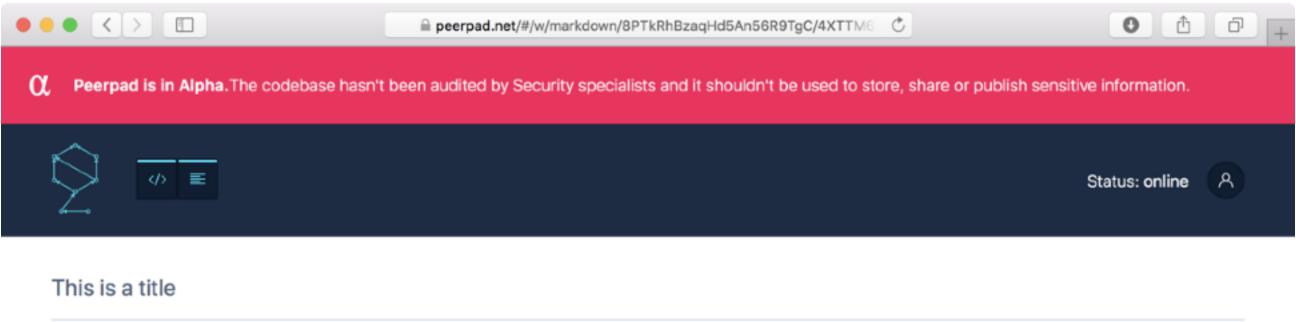

HELLO WORLD!

PeerPad is a realtime P2P collaborative editing tool, powered by IPFS and CRDTs

Create new:

Markdown pad

G(

```
(\pm)
                                                         Hello
Hello
                                                                                                                 ₾
This * is 迅
* some
                                                         This
* markdown ```js

 is with: "code"

 some

 markdown

 with: "code"
```

Peer-Pac

github.com/ipfs-shipyard/peer-pad

Challenges

IPFS Dynamic Data and Capabilities Working Group

Lisbon May 2018